Dublin. (Ireland). The writer has heard from Mary Estlin that she expects the addressee to come to Bristol. An agency appointment has been sent the writer, but without instructions. Asks if the addressee has any for him. "The war with New Broad St. is not so pleasant as before they made a conquest of Thompson." Thompson is to be the chief attraction at their coming anniversary, whereas last year he was not even invited to their meeting. The writer desires all possible suggestions, so that his "fragmentary strength may not be spent for maught." A.L.S. 3 p. 7 x 4 5/8 in.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

Dublin. (Ireland). The writer learns from Parker Pillsbury that the addressee may visit Bristol. Did not wish to disturb the addressee while she was with Miss Martineau. Would like to know how Lucia and the other "Italian Westons" are. Was pleased with the handsome wedding present that Thomas Sturge made to Madame Augel (Elizabeth B. Chapman). The writer has enjoyed knowing Pillsbury,"-but the influence of people of the Anna Richardson clan ... have greatly narrowed up his way. The adherents of Douglass too are doing as much mischief as they can." Hopes the addressee approves of the writer's compliments to Victor hoelcher in the last Anti-Slavery Advocate.

To Rev. Samuel May Jr.

No.67

Dublin. Ireland, The writer gives directions about certain correspondence. Condemns the New York Independent as a "very troublesome paper." Wishes to expose the Turkish Mission plan. Discusses Frederick Douglass' friends in England. Says that George Thompson is to be the chief speaker at the coming anniversary of the British & Foreign Anti-Slavery Society. Comments caustically on the tactics of this society. Says the May issue of the Anti-Slavery Reporter deals mostly with Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's visit to the Boston A-S Fair and other American affairs. Mentions the Grand Rally of the Waine Liquor law supporters. James ton and Richard Allen are the principal leaders. A.L.S. 8pp. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2 in.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

(Glasgow) Observatory, (Scotland), The writer comments on the British & Foreign Anti-Slavery Society's failure to mention the American Anti-Slavery Society, the female delegates, and Parker Pillsbury's "name even." Yet "Georges Tehompsons permits himself to be advertised as one of their speakers at their forthcoming anniversary!" Wonders if G. Thompson "can be in truth deceived by their manoeuvrings." Points out Thompson's error. Sharply criticises the conduct of the British & Foreign Anti-Slavery Society. The addressee must visit the writer and her husband in Scotland. Refers to the addressee's domestic affairs messages to her son-in-law and daughter. Tells of hel ection for Harriet Martineau. A.L.S. 8 p. 7 x 4 1/2 in.

eWritten from?: The writer quotes at length from an old journal on the subject of Americans in general. The article says (among other things): "No American that I have ever seen will acknowledge fully the guilt of his nation or of his own relations in the matter of slavery. He will always have some poor paltry excuse. "rs. Stowe is true to her national character in striving to whitewash her father end husband for their past conduct..."

Discusses Mr. Webb's accounts. Thinks Parker Pillsbury's sensitiveness must be very trying to the English Abolitionists. Considers that George Thompson was obliged by circumstances to praise Frederick Pouglass in his paper, the Empire. Penounces the activity of Julia Griffiths. Says Pillsbury would not incur the displeasure of Carrison and his friends if he attacked George Thompson. Pillstury seems quite conscious of "a screw loose (as we say-is this Eng also?) in his composition." George Thompson was offended r. Webb's report of the London Conference. Resolutions

Leeds, England. I. The Committee regrets the loss sustained to the Anti-Slavery cause by the death of John Bishop Estlin. II. The Association sympathizes with Passmore Williams "in his present undeserved sufferings." It deprecates the enforcement of the laws assisting the recovery of slaves. III. The Committee plans to print "an occasional sheet of short Anti-Slavery items, to be entitled The Anti-Slavery Pilot; and forward the same to newspaper editors, for their insertion as paragraphs."

To "My dear friend" [AWW?]

Ms.A.9.2 Vol.28 No.71

Drumnigh Cottage, County of Dublin, (Ireland), The writer says the addressee's letter reached him at a time when he was very busy. Tells about the eye strain caused by his work. Anne W. Weston also complained of trouble with her eyes. Thought the addressee might have been offended by the writer's criticism of G. Thompson's conduct at the recent London conference. It seemed to the writer that Thompson was trying to conciliate J. Sturge and the Pritish & Foreign Anti-Slavery Society. Says G. T. is now in Ceylon recovering from an illness. He is expected back in England within two years. Mrs. Webb helps the writer with the Anti-Slavery Advocate. Received a complimentary letter from Harriet Martineau. "Along with Miss Martineau's note came one from her cousin Mrs. Turner of (Continued govert card)

Lentonfield near Nottingham ... " Says that the Charles Summer incident and the Kansas troubles have increased the interest of the English people in the Anti-Slavery cause. An English newspaper, the Globe "has given Carrison & Phillips a prominent place in its editorial columns." H. Martineau "has regularly set herself to write up arrison & Phillips to public notice in England ... " Is thankful that the Abolitionist cause has "brought me finally into a cordial friendship with the very remarkable deaf woman who is also nearly destitute of taste and smell" (H. Martineau). Discusses printing as a livelihood. Compares the economic opportunities in the Fritish Isles and America. Remarks on the way Americans can spend a year traveling abroad without losing their jobs. Ws.A.9.2 Vol.29 No.2

To "My dear Friend"

Edinburgh, (Scotland). The writer hopes to see the addressee before she recrosses the Atlantic. "We expect Mary Webb to take tea with us tomorrow evening." Says that William and Robert Chambers are publishing Anti-Slavery articles in their journal. Mentions the "African Twins, two girls 5 1/2 yrs old united together by the backbone." Does not think that these Siamese twins should be exhibited, even though the money gained thereby will be used to purchase their freedom from slavery. Thinks that this money should be paid into the treasury of the American Anti-Slavery Society.
